

Dropout Prevention Resources

1. National Center for School Engagement - The National Center for School Engagement was established as a result of more than a decade of educational research conducted by The Partnership for Families & Children, formerly known at the Colorado Foundation for Families and Children. NCSE makes many resources available on this site concerning school attendance, attachment, and achievement - the 3 A's.

<http://www.schoolengagement.org/index.cfm/Welcome>

2. National Dropout Prevention Network - The mission of the National Dropout Prevention Center/Network is to increase high school graduation rates through research and evidenced-based solutions.

<http://www.dropoutprevention.org/ndpcdefault.htm>

3. Freshmen Transition Network - The Freshman Transition Network, a group of educators interested in better transitioning freshmen into high school for the benefit of the freshmen and for the benefit of the entire school.

<http://freshmantransition.ning.com/>

4. Center for Social Organization of Schools - The Center for Social Organization of Schools (CSOS) was established in 1966 as an educational research and development center at Johns Hopkins University. The Center maintains a staff of full-time, highly productive sociologists, psychologists, social psychologists, and educators who conduct programmatic research to improve the education system, as well as full-time support staff engaged in developing curricula and providing technical assistance to help schools use the Center's research. The Center currently includes the federally-supported Center for Research on the Education of Students Placed At Risk, and the Center on School, Family and Community Partnerships.

<http://web.jhu.edu/csos>

5. Intervention Central - Intervention Central is committed to the goal of making quality Response-to-Intervention resources available to educators at no cost--especially in these times of tight school budgets. The site was created in 2000 by Jim Wright, a school psychologist and school administrator from Central New York. Visit to check out newly posted academic and behavioral intervention strategies, download publications on effective teaching practices, and use tools that streamline classroom assessment and intervention.

<http://www.interventioncentral.org/>