

Positive Behavior Support Resources

1. “Why Try” is a positive behavior support curriculum that can be used to teach character, resiliency, and good behavior. The curriculum can be purchased, but there are several free resources on this site as well.
www.whytry.org
2. Positive Action is a positive behavior support curriculum that helps teach to students to reframe negative attitudes. The curriculum can be purchased, but there are several free resources on this site as well.
www.positiveaction.net
3. The Foundation for a Better Life has free video clips, posters, quotes, stories, and more that can be used to teach values and character.
www.values.com
4. The movie industry contributes clips to the web site below. The clips can be downloaded for free, and they can be used in the classroom to teach life lessons.
www.wingclips.com