From YOUR Principals:

The first six weeks have flown by! Report cards go home on Friday, hopefully to be displayed in a prominent place like the refrigerator. If not, grades can be changed.....this six weeks! All it takes is extra effort! Congratulations to all those many students with perfect attendance so far! Many experts state that nothing is more important to school success than regular attendance! After all, we can't teach them if they're not here to learn! Learning builds day by day plus regular attendance teaches responsibility! Thank you for making education a priority in your home with your family!

Congratulations to Mrs. Burris' class. They brought in the most box tops (433) for Aug/Sep and have won a Popsicle Party. Way to go!

Second place goes to Mrs. Whitaker's class with 304 and 3rd place goes to Mrs. Cardwell's class with 294 box tops submitted.

A total of 2,862 box tops were submitted this time around. I expect to see that number climb each month and don't forget that the next Box Top submission is due October 28th. The price for October is an extra recess.

Thanks,
Cherie Oktay, Volunteer Coordinator

Please have your family immunized against the Flu as soon as possible.

CLEAN, COVER, CONTAIN

This is a mantra that you can reinforce at home.

Handwashing is emphasized. We encourage the students to cough or sneeze in the crook of their arm as opposed to their hands. Also, please keep your children home until they are fever free, or have not vomited in 24 hours. Our definition of a fever is 100 degrees or higher. Thanks for all you do to help keep our students as healthy as possible.

3rd Grade News

We have started an author's study, Patricia Polacco. In our language arts classes, we have been reading lots of her books and discussing them. We will also use her books for some exciting writing lessons for the next several weeks. Ask your child what he/she can tell you about Patricia Polacco. She's a great writer! She does a great job telling/writing stories that relate to real life situations and experiences. On a different note, everyone is so excited about Fun Friday---yes, it is Friday. Your child will need to bring a snack, a drink, and some type of game that can be played with buddies. Please do not send expensive, electronic games to school---wouldn't want those types of games to be misplaced. Also on Friday, your child will be bringing home the first report card. Please take a look at the grades and the behavior. Sign one copy and put it back in the envelope and send it back to your child's homeroom teacher. You may keep one of the copies at home for your records. This is the first year the students can earn honor cards. The students are very excited. Ask your child about what an all 'A' and an 'A/B' honor card means. Don't forget to read, read, read at home. Reading is so important!

REPORT ABSENCES HERE

Please do not leave your car unattended in a fire lane or block handicap parking; it's against the law! Also, remember there is a law prohibiting using a cell phone while driving in a school zone, which includes driving through our campus. Talking to your child is much more fun!
