

West First Grade Homework Policy 2009-2010

Homework is given during the week and is assigned on the back of the Knightly Communicator. Homework needs to be completed and returned. Parents may provide help or assistance when needed, but homework should be a review of skills taught in the classroom. Homework will not always require the use of paper and pencil. It may, at times, be rote practice (such as skip counting), having a discussion with family members, or collecting things to bring to school. Book bags for nightly reading practice will be sent home. Please keep track of the titles read and return the book packets to school everyday.
