

Prescription narcotics

Narcotics are not to be administered at school.

We do not allow students to attend school while taking prescription narcotics, except rarely (for a chronically ill student).

- A child who is in enough pain to need prescription narcotics for a short time should be at home.
 - A student may have an adverse reaction to a narcotic with which he has had no experience.
 - Narcotics impair a person's normal reaction time, ability to make decisions, and equilibrium. This could be potentially harmful to the student or to others.
